SING-SONG GIRLS AND NEWSBOYS AID FAMINE FUND

Singers Will Collect From Hosts Of Dinner Parties

TAG DAY NETS $25,325

Final Receipts Counted As Last Of Schools Report

Eminent Amateurs To Act For Fund

Prominent local amateurs in Chinese dramatics will perform at the Hankow Road Theater on Tuesday night in aid of the famine relief fund. The list includes Yuan Hanyung, son of Yuan Shih-k'ai; Kwan Chung, Magistrate of the Mixed Court, Wang Yu-chi, head of the lecture department of the Budhists' Society in Shanghai and Ma Hsian-peh, a noted educator of Kiangpeh, Kiangsu.

(CHINA PRESS STAFF WIRE)
Tehchow, Shantung, March 23.—Dr. Yu, of the Anti-Plague Commission fighting the famine in Shantung Province, is dying of plague at Sangyuan, 40 li north of here, and five of his associates are quarantined as contacts.

Now comes the petite and arrestingly lyrical sing-song girl to play a part in the famine relief drive.

Plans are afoot for an organised campaign by a team of the city's most popular Chinese songstresses who intend seeing to it that those gay frequenters of the restaurants and teashops who affect music with their meals contribute largely to the cause.

The idea came at a dinner given in Foochow Road restaurant by the leaders of the canvassing teams which are working in the Shanghai drive. Sing-song girls were a feature of the dinner.

Why not, it was suggested, equip them with receipt books and let them exercise their vocal charms in behalf of the starving people of the North? Why not? rejoined the girls, and so it was arranged and a team was rapidly organised.

While the diners were still at table there arrived, now and again, one of those red, bechar-actered rectangles of paper which are the summons calling milady of the piercing notes to warble at some other feast. Each girl, as she left, picked up a receipt book from the pile on hand and the musical drive was on.

The plan is for the girls to solicit contributions from each member of the parties for which she sings and the team expects to raise at least $10,000.

NEWSBOYS GIVE EARNINGS

But the humble Chinese newsboy has evinced an even greater personal interest in the effort for the funds. He gave his earnings of yesterday. The news sellers' profits amount only to about one cash per paper but it is expected that total sum to be realised from this source will be considerable.

A total of over $25,000 was netted by the students' tag day of last Saturday it was announced yesterday after the last of the receipts had been counted. The exact figure is $25,325. The last batch of collections came from St. John's University, students of which took in $1,963; the Kaiser Wilhelm school, which turned in $1,005 and Fun Tan College, which secured $1,002. The Y.M.C.A. turned in an additional $463.

BRITISH MINERS AT LOGGERHEADS ON WAGE ISSUES

Wales And Scotland Favor Acceptance Of Owners' Offer; Others Opposed

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 22.—The prolonged negotiations which have been going on between the representatives of the miners and coal-owners resulted in the decision of a miners' delegate conference to refer to the various districts the offer of the coal-owners for a readjustment of wages. This offer, though more generous than was expected, does not concede the demand of the miners for a national wage base, as opposed to district agreements.

The result of the meetings of miners' district councils held up to the present shows that a split in the miners' ranks is likely. Wales and Scotland are opposed to the acceptance of the coal-owners' offer, whereas other districts, notably Yorkshire, are prepared temporarily to relinquish some of their demands in view of the precarious position of the coal industry.

The Labor Gazette reports that last month there were changes in the rates of wages affecting 1,620,000 persons in Great Britain, of whom 1,500,000 underwent decreases, amounting to £450,000 weekly. Most of the latter were miners, whose wages were reduced owing to the diminished output and value of coal.

ESTIMATES FOR YEAR DEFENDED BY CHAMBERLAIN

Chancellor Expects Near East Burden Will Be Reduced Shortly

HOPES FOR LESSER NAVIES

Competition With U. S. In Armament "Unthinkable," He Tells Commons

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 22.—Speaking on the subject of economy in the House of Commons, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Austen Chamberlain, agreed that the expenditure in the Middle East was an excessive burden and he expressed the hope that, as a result of Mr. Churchill's visit, measures might be recommended to the Cabinet whereby satisfactory reductions would be secured.

With regard to ex-German East Africa, Mr. Chamberlain pointed out that the country was disorganised and its development delayed. He was afraid that for a little time it would be a charge on our resources, but, he asked, what portion of the Empire was there which economists had not, at one time or another, advised Great Britain to abandon as too costly, whereas by giving a little help at the start, development proceeds to the immense advantage of world trade and particularly to the country which brought order and civilisation to those areas. He begged the House not rashly to forego the chances of developing these great territories which, as they produced and prospered, would afford new markets for our industries.

Mr. Chamberlain stated that the estimates had been brought down as low as was considered safe in view of the uncertainty and disturbance of the world. He declared that the idea of competition in armaments with the United States was horrible and, for us, unthinkable. (Cheers). He alluded to the widespread feeling in Great Britain that we were not content, after fighting the great war for freedom and destroying the great military autocracy of Central Europe, to contemplate a vista of years in which the nations were still struggling under the burden of these immense armaments whereby all other national services were curtailed. He hoped that other nations, of greater need than we, would think less of deeds of war and more of the needs of peace and would settle down to reconstruct the world. He declared that Great Britain was the only European nation who was able to balance her budget and that also she had begun to pay off her foreign and internal debts.

ALL DOMINIONS TO GET SPECIAL CUSTOMS RATES

Imperial Conference Ends After Making Many Adjustments

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 22.—Reuter's Agency learns that the Imperial Customs Conference has closed. Amongst the decisions reached was an important conclusion, on the method of calculating values for the purpose of arriving at the amount of preference that the present anomaly of the Dominions' stationing Customs investigating officers in Great Britain for the purpose of examining British invoices, while foreign exporters are exempt from supervision, should be ended and a joint investigation service substituted, acting for all the Dominions and applying to foreign as well as to British goods. Investigating officials will be stationed at a number of important centers in Europe.

It was also decided to grant preference if the whole process of manufacture occurs in the United Kingdom, thus disposing of differentiation in estimating the British minimum of twenty-five percent. Other items, hitherto not included in the twenty-five percent limit, would now be included, the principle being to bring all the Dominions and colonies up to the level of the most favored treatment accorded to British goods.

Another subject of discussion was the regulations governing the admission of commercial travellers' samples. The Conference agreed to adopt the British procedure of admitting samples under a bond which is cancelled at exportation.

U.S.-German Pact Near, Says Teuton Envoy To Rome

Rome, Feb. 20, (by mail).—The announcement of a probable treaty between Germany and the United States, made by the German Ambassador to Rome, Herr von Berenberg Gossler, is causing a great sensation in Roman diplomatic and political circles.

Last night during the course of a conversation in a certain aristocratic house Herr Gossler said:

"I do not mind telling you that we Germans are getting on better terms with the American Government every day; and before long I hope to be able to annouce officially to the Italian Government that an alliance has been concluded between Germany and the United States."

CHINA FACES BIG EVENTS, ASSERTS U.S. PROFESSOR

Dr. Dealey, In Lecture Here, Urges Educational Development

That some of the most important events in the future of civilisation will occur on the coasts of the Pacific is the belief of Dr. J. Q. Dealey, professor of sociology at Brown University and temporarily a member of the faculty at the Shanghai Baptist College.

"As a student of sociology, I felt that I could not know my subject until I had visited China," Dr. Dealey said in a lecture last night at the Shanghai Y.M.C.A. "In a few months the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic will be celebrated. The people as a whole are democratic, and the indication is that the republic will survive. Many friends of China have been disappointed by some of its political developments, but the past six years have been trying all over the world. It is certainly not easy to found a new system of government, even if the people are united in their desires, which is not the case in China."

The salvation of the country, according to the speaker, lies in economic development and intellectual improvement.

"The trades should be modernised by the gradual introduction of machinery," Dr. Dealey said. "This would mean improvement in the standard of living and a preparation for intelligent citizenship. China should reserve to herself her great natural wealth and use it to meet the expenses of national education. If education were made one of the heaviest expenses of the republic, illiteracy would be practically stamped out in one or two generations."

Wine Yields Only Third Of Expected Revenue In Britain

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 22.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Austen Chamberlain indicated that he was leaving the Exchequer and that the budget would be introduced by the new Chancellor.

Replying to a question regarding the revenue derived from the duties on sparkling wines, Mr. Chamberlain said that the ad-valorem duty on champagne had only realised thirty percent of the estimate. Asked whether he would consider the reduction of the duty, he replied that he would no longer be Chancellor of the Exchequer and that the question must be considered by his successor who must ascertain whether the reduced consumption was due to the exorbitant profits of British sellers and not to the tax.

PROVINCIAL WAR LIKELY IN SOUTH; CANTON ALARMED

Kwangsi Citizens' Army Busy With Recruiting And Training

MERCHANTS ARE UNEASY

Refusal To Accept Kwangtung Bank Notes Indicates Fear Of Outbreak

(Reuter's Pacific Service)
Canton, March 19 (delayed).—Local antagonists of the Military Government are circulating the rumor that Kwangtung and Kwangsi are on the brink of open hostilities.

It was reported two days ago that a Kwangsi detachment under Wei Yung-chang had crossed into Kwangtung territory, and attacked Fungchuen, capturing prisoners and booty. Canton officials would neither deny nor confirm the report.

Meanwhile the Kwangsi Citizens Army—a body of Kwangsi men who support the Military Government—is busily recruiting and training in Canton and will in all probability establish its headquarters at Dosing, on the West River, near the Kwangsi border. Furthermore, General Ngai Bongping has received orders from General Chen Chiung-ming to despatch some of his troops to Samshui.

Significant of the public apprehensiveness that trouble is brewing is the persistent refusal of Canton shop-keepers to accept the notes of the Provincial Bank of Kwangtung in payment of goods. It is understood that the Military Government will take steps to enforce acceptance of the notes as legal tender, at the same time assuring the public that it is contributing a million dollars a month toward the capital of the Provincial Bank.

General Chen Chiung-ming has issued instructions to all district magistrates in Kwangtung to protect agents of the Kuomintang when they arrive within their jurisdiction for the purpose of organising local Kuomintang bodies.

While events are undoubtedly fast moving towards a crisis, it is difficult accurately to ascertain the actual facts of the situation; moreover, as might be expected, the Cantonese press has been strictly enjoined to use the utmost caution in discussing Kwangtung-Kwangsi relations in their present delicate condition.

TWO MILLION IN ENGLAND AIDED BY GOVERNMENT

Pension List Largest Ever Attempted By Any Government, Says Minister

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 22.—That nearly two million persons are receiving benefits from the Government to an extent hitherto unattempted in this or any other country, was the claim of Dr. Macnamara, the Minister of Labor, in reply to Mr. Clynes (Labor) who complained of the inadequacy of the Government's action in regard to unemployment. Dr. Macnamara quoted the following increases as compared with 1919: Seven to twenty shillings unemployment benefit, and four to twelve million beneficiaries. He stated that £10,500,000 was being spent on arterial roads and road maintenance and that the Ministry of Health was laying sewers and buying housing sites, involving an additional expenditure of £5,000,000. Although the number of unemployed was increasing, a hundred thousand had already been found useful, productive work and work was about to be found for 50,000 ex-service men in the building trade. (Cheers). Although the Trade Unions had turned down the scheme, the Employers' Federation had accepted responsibility for the success of it and they appealed to the Trade Unions to co-operate.

PRE-WAR DEBTS NOT CANCELLED BY SOVIET PACT

Lloyd George Says This And Other Issues Will Be Cleared Later

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 23.—A volley of critical questions was fired at the Government in the House of Commons last night, as regards the Russian Trade Agreement, notably whether the property of British subjects in Russia were definitely confiscated, and whether the Soviets had accepted responsibility for the former Government's debts. Mr. Lloyd George regretted that peace had not been signed. This, he said, was due to the Soviet's refusal of our offer for a joint discussion last year, but the Trade Agreement safeguarded all the points raised. Most of these, as well as the Soviet's counterclaims, had been reserved for clearing up later, when all claims would be pressed with the greatest firmness. The Premier said he detected a change from the wild and extravagant communism of even a few months ago. The Moscow wireless messages indicated a significant recognition that the Russian system was impossible with the present state of human nature and that it was impossible to patch up locomotives with Karl Marx's doctrines.

Washington, March 23.—There is no official confirmation of the Moscow wireless reports that the Soviet Government is appealing to President Harding to resume trade with Russia.

The most definite indication of the Administration's attitude on this subject is the statement of Mr. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, that the question is a political and not an economic one, and that any considerable trade between America and Russia is at present physically impossible because production has been destroyed under the Soviet system, and Russia has nothing to export except the gold, platinum and jewels which are in the hands of the Bolshevist Government and will soon be exhausted.

Moral Welfare Committee Holds Its Annual Meeting

Organisation Re-Elects Dr. Rowlinson As Head; License Conditions Discussed

The annual meeting of the Shanghai Moral Welfare Committee was held Tuesday at the Committee's office, 5 Quinsan Garden. Reports of the work of the past year were made and plans for the future were discussed.

The report of the executive committee showed that while there have been 14 meetings of the executive committee, only one general meeting of the whole committee has been held—the meeting in December, addressed by Mrs. Neville Rolfe of the Eastern Commission of the National Council for combatting Venereal Disease.

Much of the work of the Committee has naturally been such that it is not wise to speak specifically in reporting it, but since the adoption of the report of the Vice-Committee made last March the chief activities of the committee have been given to four subjects: (1) The White Slave Traffic; (2) Investigating Committee work; (3) Publicity; (4) Work in connection with the Visit of the Commission. It was felt that nothing could be more fortunate for Shanghai, if Shanghai profits by the advice she has received, than the visit of Mrs. Neville Rolfe and Dr. Hallam.

REPORT OF TREASURER

The report of the treasurer pointed out that while the money now on hand, together with that already pledged, would be sufficient to carry on the work on the same scale as in the past year, the new and larger plans of the committee will call for increased subscriptions. He also said that up to the present the larger part of the contributions have come from a single nationality, and from a single group of the community—the missionaries—and expressed the hope that the committee may be able to secure a wider support, particularly from the Chinese.

A report on the working of the new scheme of registration of prostitutes (one fifth of the licenses to be withdrawn each year for five years), was presented. It was pointed out that the first 20 percent of registered brothels are to be closed on March 31, and that the committee will be in need of additional voluntary assistance in finding out whether or not this is actually done.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT

It was also reported that the new plan has already resulted in marked improvement in several respects. There seems to be general agreement that there is less street soliciting than a year ago and that certain localities, notably near some schools, have been much improved.

At the same time, it must be admitted that the task of removing "Advertised opportunity" is only just begun, and that in some respects, the regulations can not be said to be observed.

One of the conditions of the brothel license requires that it be kept posted inside the brothel and that the license number plate be kept posted outside the street en-

BOTH SIDES SEE VICTORY IN SILESIAN PLEBISCITE

Poles Contend Most Of Communes Favor Them

BERLIN PUZZLED

Commission Has Knotty Problem In Fixing Boundaries

(Reuter's Service)
London, March 23.—A different light is thrown on the result of the Upper Silesia plebiscite by a Reuter telegram from Warsaw, which reveals the curious fact that both the Polish and German capitals are joyfully celebrating victory.

The Poles admit, says Reuter's correspondent, that a majority of votes has gone in favor of Germany, but they claim that 462 communes are pro-Polish, as against 94 pro-German, with some commune results still outstanding. They declare that seven districts are pro-German against nine pro-Polish, including the whole of the valuable mining country, where the votes are 384,000 for Poland and 360,000 for Germany.

These Polish submissions are evidently based on a method of presentation of the figures in respect of geographical rather than of electoral areas, in which the Germans scored majorities in 17 and the Poles in only three.

Reuter's correspondent at Oppeln reports that the Germans polled a majority of nearly a quarter of a million over the whole Province, and other London correspondents there agree that the Poles scored well in the richest mineral areas.

It is not considered that the plebiscite has much simplified the situation, for while the Germans are concentrating on the claim that their unquestioned majority entitles them to the whole Province, the Poles urge an extensive partitioning of the mining area. The Plebiscite Commission is now confronted with the knotty task of recommending a new frontier line to the Supreme Council.

Berlin, March 22.—The first feeling of jubilation over the result of the plebiscite in Upper Silesia has been succeeded by one of disappointment, following publication of further results showing that the German majority is not so large as had been expected.

The Lokalanzeiger remarks that the fact that regions which are most important to German industry have been partly endangered and partly lost, is "most depressing." Vorwaerts warns its readers against exaggerated talk of a brilliant German victory, while other papers dwell on the dangers ahead, declaring that it is impossible that the Entente should cut places with a Polish majority out of a region which is economically homogeneous.

Berlin, March 22.—Dr von Simons, addressing the outvoters who were returning home from Silesia said that the battle had been won and that Upper Silesia had declared for Germany. The Foreign Minister continued; "We have suffered losses through the Polish terror, but victory is now ours and Upper Silesia cannot be torn from the Empire."

London, March 22.—The German Reparations Recovery Bill has passed all stages in the House of Lords without discussion.

Shippers Demand Uniform Legislation

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 22.—The Imperial Shipping Committee, including both shippers and shipowners, which is investigating the question of the liability of ship-owners under bills of lading, has made a unanimous report recommending uniform legislation throughout the Empire on this question and proposing the establishment of a special body, common to the Empire, to deal with exceptions and the limits of liability instead of the usual course of reporting only to the British Prime Minister.

The Committee addressed its conclusions to the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and Newfoundland and to the Secretaries of State for India and the Colonies.

The Imperial Shipping Committee proposes that the Canadian "Water Carriage of Goods Act," which prohibits shipowners from excluding themselves from liability due to the negligence of their servants, and specifically mentions a definite value for each package, beyond which ordinarily shipowners are not to be held responsible, should be adopted as the model of legislation for the British Empire.

College Graduate Up For Vagrancy

The alleged inability of Horace M. Wood, college graduate and civil engineer, to abstain from looking on the wine after he was no longer certain of its color led to his appearance in the United States Court for China this morning on a charge of vagrancy. The defendant, who was found unconscious on the street a few days ago, maintained that he had been drugged by a Chinese bartender to whom he owed money. Judge C. S. Lobinger postponed passing sentence until the possibility of finding employment for the man on a steamer bound for dry America had been investigated. Wood was released from Bilibid Prison in the Philippines last September.

Old Clothing Asked For Local Relief

The attention of the local community is again drawn to the constant and urgent need by the American Red Cross for second-hand clothing, shoes, hats—women's, children's, and men's—for use in connection with civilian relief work of the American Red Cross in Shanghai.

The organisation is daily called upon to meet the need of refugees and others and, it is very difficult to meet these calls without some support from the public. Those having such old clothing are most earnestly requested to 'phone the American Red Cross, Central 1953, and the gifts will be sent for or such parcels may be delivered to the China Central Committee, American Red Cross at 18B Kiangse Road.

American Woman's Club

The Music Department of the American Woman's Club will give a program of exceptional interest at the Carlton Cafe on March thirty-first, when Miss Frances Webster Adams explains the evolution of the sonata, and Mr. Harry Ore illustrates its various phases on the piano. The meeting will be open to club members and their friends, including men. Four compositions have been selected for presentation, ranging in time from the late Renaissance to the present day.

On April sixth, Mrs. F. J. White of the Shanghai Baptist College is to address the Mothers' Department on "Hobbies." The book reviews are to follow her talk, one, of Freeman's "How Children Learn," to be given by Mrs. C. M. Guss, and the other on Hall's "Education, Regimen, and Hygiene" to be presented by Mrs. H. E. Davis.

President Issue Agitates South

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, March 23.—The question of electing a President for Southwest China has again arisen at Canton. Besides the preparations made by the National Assembly for the purpose, a number of telegrams have been received from Chinese overseas, and published in the Chinese press, urging the early election of a President.

Accused Of Larceny Of Bill Of Lading

F. J. Baretto, bookkeeper, 707 Jukong Road, was charged yesterday in the British Police Court with the larceny of a bill of lading covering 1,302 cases of tin, valued at G.$14,000 from the Hongkong Mercantile Co., Ltd., now in liquidation. The case was adjourned till Wednesday and bail was fixed for two sureties for $1,000 each.

Mr. R. T. Bryan, jr., prosecuted and Mr. Reader Harris acted as counsel for the accused. The accused denied the charge. His counsel stated that he had just been instructed to appear and asked for a remand, suggesting bail at $1,000.

Mr. Bryan stated that he understood that the property had been sold to Chinese dealers and that the accused had received the proceeds. He did not know what accused had done with the money.

FERGUSON ACCEPTABLE

In spite of the opposition of the press and the Americans in Peking, Hsu Shih-chang has telegraphed to Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to Washington, to express on his behalf to the American Government his readiness to welcome Dr. J. C. Ferguson as United States Minister to China. Dr. Ferguson is Hsu's advisor.

JAPS GET RIGHT TO DEVELOP ORE MINES IN HUPEH

Negotiations Completed Except For Approval Of Peking Department

(Staff Correspondence)

Hankow, March 20.—A mining contract authorising the Japanese capitalists in Hankow to open up the mines of Feng-Huang-Shan in the Tayeh mining district, Hupeh, has been countersigned in Hankow between certain Chinese officials with the backing of the Tuchun and the Japanese. The negotiations were effected through a Japanese returned student who received for the job a remuneration of $25,000.

A petition for sanction has been sent in to the Provincial Industrial Commissioner, Mr. Y. Chow, who hesitated in granting the sanction. However, the petitioners, being followers of the Tuchun, had but little difficulty in getting Chow's permission. Commissioner Chow will submit the contract for final approval to the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce at Peking.

The contract provides that the mining company shall be a Sino-Japanese enterprise. The Japanese will advance $2,000,000 to develop the mines, and the Chinese shall have no right to repudiate the agreement by refunding the Japanese capital. It is also stipulated that the Japanese shall supervise the running of the mines; the spending of money and the selling of ores. Again in case more capital is needed, the Japanese shareholders shall have the right of priority in making further loans.

The Denniston Players

The Denniston players personally conducted a large and appreciate audience of Shanghai theater goers on a sightseeing tour of Mabel's room at the Lyceum last evening, and judging from the ripples of laughter that came echoing down the stairs every few minutes the little tour must have been an enjoyable one to all in the party.

"Up in Mabel's room" is one of those bed room things that had the New York reformers' union tearing its individual and collective hair a couple of winters ago, and one wonders, after watching it, what they could have been so excited about, since the naughtiest thing in it is a bit of milady's unmentionables—unmentionable everywhere except broadcast in the advertising pages, and so generously and frequently on display in department store windows (and elsewhere) that nobody except the ultra tilt-nosed gets even the suspicion of a kick out of them any more.

The play was so well acted that those of us who had seen it previously in New York had the sort of feeling that goes with meeting with an old friend, and in this instance the old friend was so little changed that one wondered how he could have traveled so far with so few bumps.

Miss Howard, in the title role, was up to her usual standard, and was ably supported, particularly by Mr. Vaughan-Morgan, as Garry Ainsworth, and Miss Florence Chapman, as Geraldine, Garry's wife.

The company will present "Civilian Clothes" tonight.

Moral Welfare Committee Holds Its Annual Meeting

trance. The investigations of the committee go to show that in a large number of cases the brothels ignore one or both of these regulations. In some cases the number and name plates outside the door have been found to exceed the number of inmates indicated by the license.

TO BRING TEST CASE

One of the conditions of the brothel license is that it is subject to forfeiture in case the conditions are violated. During the past year there have been instances of the conviction of brothel inmates for soliciting, but if any such conviction has resulted in the cancellation of the license the instance has escaped the notice of the committee.

In some quarters there seems to have been increased activity in the transfer of land in the Settlement, and it is perhaps not unreasonable to suppose that in some cases the transfer has been made in consequence of the fact that land owners have learned that letting property for immoral purposes is a criminal offense—at least for some nationalities. It may sooner or later become necessary for the committee to bring a test case against some land owner.

One remarkable question that has arisen under the licensing plan and is as yet unanswered is this: "What is a brothel?" In the report of the Vice-Committee it seems to be used as synonimous with "house of prostitution." That report was adopted as a basis on which the present scheme was founded, and yet to the surprise of some of those most interested in the matter it is found that several licenses have been issued to one house. The extreme instance of this is 46 N. Yunnan Road where there are no less than 13 licensed brothels at the same address. While this is the extreme instance there are many places where from two to five licenses have been issued to one house. Of course in so far as this shows that there are less houses than had been supposed, it is so much to the good. But it is plain that in many cases when the license of one apartment is withdrawn, the room above it, or below it, or beside it, will continue to be a licensed brothel and this will increase the difficulty of enforcing the closure.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

It was suggested that the activities of the committee, together with those of other bodies, have been helpful in securing the closing of low resorts on North Szechuen Road and its vicinity.

The fact was brought out that letters have been received from England asking about the present registration plan of Shanghai, and inquiring why such a plan is followed rather than immediate closeure. It was suggested that Shanghai is still far behind Great Britain in its treatment of the problem of vice.

While the need of additional recreational facilities was recognised it was felt that this committee must confine itself for the most part to law enforcement.

The parts of the report of the Eastern Commission of the National Council for Combatting Venereal Diseases relating to the provision of additional facilities for the treatment of disease were commented on, and it was felt that Shanghai should do more than has been done to carry out the recommendations of the report in the way of furnishing adequate facilities at the Isolation Hospital and the provision of free secret clinics.

Possibly the most important action looking to the future program of the committee was the decision to try to secure the services of a paid secretary or other officer to give at least half of his time to the work of the committee. It was agreed that the growing working of the committee requires this, and that Shanghai should provide at least half the budget. Hopes were expressed that financial assistance from home might be secured for the rest.

Dr. Rawlinson was re-elected chairman and Mrs. C. F. Remer secretary of the committee. Contributions and offers of personal assistance to the work of the committee should be sent to the office of the committee 5 Quinsan Gardens.

PACT WITH REDS NOT NECESSARY, UCHIDA ASSERTS

Says Japan "Will Take Required Action" If Chita Refuses Demands

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, March 22.—Speaking before the Budget Committee of the House of Peers, Count Uchida, the Foreign Minister, said that it was unnecessary for Japan to follow the example set by Great Britain with the Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement.

Regarding the reported cession of a portion of Kamchatka to Japan, Count Uchida said that Japan had submitted five demands to the Chita Government, which had not been accepted up to the present. If they were finally rejected, he continued, Japan would take whatever steps she thought necessary to protect her fishery and other rights.

As regards the Island of Yap, the Foreign Minister said that the Government had received no fresh information. (Reports are current here that a compromise is expected, whereby America will control the cable to Guam, Japan controlling the cable to Shanghai.)

Referring to the working-hours provided in the Washington Labor Convention, Mr. Egi estimated that, if ratified, the Convention would cost the Government works alone fifty million yen in addition to the requested estimates.

Tokio, March 23.—The budget has been passed by the Upper House. A resolution has, however, been attached to it, calling the attention of the Government to the "general deterioration of public discipline and thought, and the increasing difficulty of living."

Stubborn Case of Boils & Pimples
"Can honestly say I am quite cured"
Our portrait is of Mr. W. BRIDAL, 27, Strand Street, Ferntown, Mountain Ash, South Wales, Great Britain, who writes:
"It gives me great pleasure in telling you about the remarkable cure I found in Clarke's Blood Mixture for boils and pimples. After having suffered from time to time from both, and trying all kinds of so-called remedies, and being under doctor's treatment, I thought of Clarke's Blood Mixture, having tried it years ago with success for a similar complaint. After taking one bottle it seemed to drive them out, and after the second bottle I found a decided improvement, and continuing with your Mixture I can honestly say I am quite cured."
CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. UNIONS DEMAND LASH FOR MEN WHO LOST URGA

Shanghai Federation Asks Punishment For Chen Yi And Chu Chi-hsiang

The local Federated Street Union yesterday addressed telegrams to President Hsu and the Cabinet asking for the punishment of Chen Yi and Chu Chi-hsiang for the loss of Urga, Toulin and other places and the appointment of General Wu Pei-fu and Feng Yu-hsiang to head the expeditionary forces to Urga.

The Unions also censured the conduct of Chang Tso-lin, the Fengtien warlord, who celebrated his birthday Tuesday instead of devising means of re-conquering the lost territory and demanded the recall and punishment of his lieutenant, Chang Ching-hui, whom he recommended to be the commander-in-chief of the expeditionary forces to Urga and who had since remained in Tientsin, the message said, to do sight-seeing.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 23.—An official telegram from Kiakhta, dated the 17th inst., reports no fresh development, and states that Chinese troops are still occupying Maimacheng. It adds that the Chinese troops occupy a pass to the south of Udeh, where the enemy have so far not attacked them.

Peking, March 23.—It is stated semi-officially that apprehension is felt at Hailar regarding reports to the effect that Russian reactionaries contemplate seizing Hailar. Meanwhile reactionary agents are stirring up trouble between the Chinese and Mongols. The Hailar Commissioner is at present at Manchuli, but will shortly return to his post, whereupon energetic steps are threatened at this center, where Baron Ungern was previously allowed to secure supplies for the conquest of Urga.

Dismiss Case Brought Against Hammond

The case against Mr. J. T. Hammond, who was charged with breach of a French Municipal bye-law in connection with a cess-pool at premises at 320 Avenue Joffre, was dismissed by Magistrate G. W. King in the British Police Court yesterday.

The Magistrate held it had not been shown that Mr. Hammond was alone responsible for the cess-pool, it also serving other premises owned by Messrs. Algar. There was no question, the Court thought, but that the defendant had been rude to the sanitary inspector, however, and that was probably why he found himself in court. The Magistrate commented that the Council should make clear the responsibilities of landlords.

COTTON MILL MEN IN HANKOW FORM ORGANISATION

Owners Hold 'Get Together' Meeting; Shu Yung-ting Made President

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Hankow, March 18.—A Cotton Mill Owners Association was formed this week at a meeting held in the Tso Hsin Factories and attended by a group of owners of cotton mills that have either been completed or in the process of construction and organisation, in the city of Wuchang.

Grasping the local cotton mill situation in Wuchang, all the mill owners were almost a unit in admitting that such an organisation is most timely and should not fail to be profitable to all concerned. Accordingly, a constitution was drawn up and officers elected. Mr. Shu Yung-ting, President of the Wuchang Chamber of Commerce and General Manager of the Tso Hsin Factories, was elected President of this Association. Mr. Shu was also delegated by all present to go to Shanghai representing the Wuchang Cotton Mill Owners Association to straighten up some of the entangled business of cotton mills in Wuchang.

At present the two greatest mills in operation are the Tso Hsin Factories and the Wuchang First Cotton Mill. The Tso Hsin Factories has, besides a cotton mill, a weaving mill, a hemp factory and a silk filature. The First Cotton Mill is a newer enterprise, an outgrowth of the Anti-Japanese movement. Two other modern mills now in construction in Wuchang are the Chen Huan Cotton Mill and the Yu Hua Cotton Mill, both of which promise to be some exceptionally attractive Chinese enterprises when completed.

Gen. Li, Ex-Kiangsi Tuchun, On War Path

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, March 18.—Fresh troubles are reported to have been started in Western Hunan districts by General Li Lieh-chun, former Tuchun of Kiangsi province, who after being routed from western Hupeh by Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan, is now seeking revenge by reassembling the broken fragments of southern troops with a view to marching upon the capital of Hunan province from its western front.

Li Lieh-chun has decided to meet his military expenditures in two ways, first by undertaking opium and morphia business on a grand scale and second by taxing the population.

Li's military program being in feverish progress, General Chao Heng-ti of Changsha has already started a counter movement.

ASSESS $300 FINE IN WARPULA CASE

Accused Not Guilty Of Attempted Murder But Convicted Of Assault

Waino Victor Warpula, who had been charged with the attempted murder of Mr. Jensen at 18 Chaoufoong Road last month, was fined $300 in the Mixed Court yesterday. An alternative of one month's imprisonment was provided in the decision by Assessor Hutchison and Magistrate Tsang, but Warpula paid the fine.

In delivering judgment the Assessor said:

"Judgment was reserved in this case because false witness had been borne before us and we wished to reconsider all the evidence that had been put forward on both sides. We have come to the conclusion that these facts have been clearly established: the accused did, while in a semi-drunken condition, twice level a loaded rifle in the direction of the complainant with the intention of terrifying him; the shots in self-defense; the accused accused did not fire either of the shots in self-defense; the accused did not fire either of the shots with the intention of harming or killing the complainant.

"We find the accused not guilty of attempted murder. We find him guilty of a serious assault. We sentence the accused to a fine of $300, or the option of one month's imprisonment, and we direct that the facts of this case be brought to the notice of the Commandant of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps."

To Build New Forts Along Amur River

Vladivostok, March 15.—According to the Chinese press new fortresses are going to be built at important points on the banks of Amur and Sungaree rivers construction work to begin in the near future. The plan is said to include one fort in the vicinity of Pelho and to provide that all materials necessary for this fortification will be sent there by transport steamers from Shanghai.

A traveller who has recently arrived from the Urals is quoted to the effect that the disturbances in Western Siberia seem to have been prepared and directed by Socialists-Revolutionaries. The local troops are quelling the riots in a most cruel and ruthless manner putting to death all persons suspected to being implicated in the anti-Government movement regardless of age and sex the number of killed being tremendous.

The rank-and-file of some Red contingents is in a state of ferment, owing to insufficient supply, only fear of reprisals as yet preventing this movement to assume large dimensions. It is said that some regiments despatched from Chita have mutinied on their way and joined Baron Ungern's forces.

Five Fires Recorded By Brigade Yesterday

Five fires gave the Fire Brigade occupation yesterday.

Shortly after 2 a.m. three or four dwelling houses were reported ablaze in the West Hongkew district, off Elgin Road. The fire had a fierce start and considerable damage was done before the flames could be checked.

At 4:30 a.m. there was a small fire at the Oriental Cotton mill in some cotton waste. The automatic sprinklers worked so effectively that the outbreak was easily subdued by the staff and the Eastern division of the Brigade.

At 6 a.m. Sinza division made a good stop of a fire in a dwelling house off Markham Road and at 7:15 o'clock last night the firemen had some difficult work to check an outbreak in a Chinese undertaker's shop on Chefoo Road. The fire broke out in a kitchen at the rear and great piles of funeral trappings and rubbish fed the flames, which were almost inaccessable. However, good work held them back and the damage was confined to the rear of the building.

Shortly after 8 p.m. a great glare in the sky to the North of Yangtszepoo brought the Eastern division out. It was found that the fire lay off in the country toward Woosung and it was reported at first that Woosung itself was affected. This report could not be confirmed and it is thought that the blaze was in some village closer to Shanghai.

PLAY PROGRAM AT ITS HEIGHT IN PHILIPPINES

Unprecedented Interest In Islands, Elwood S. Brown, Y.M.C.A. Man, Reports

WILL BUILD STADIUM

Filipinos To Send Seven Far Eastern Record Holders Here In May

The "play for everybody" program is at its height in the Philippines, according to Elwood S. Brown, secretary for physical education in charge of foreign work of the Y.M.C.A. International Committee. Brown arrived on the Siberia Maru yesterday and will be in Shanghai but a few days before going on to Nanking. He talks to the Rotary Club today at noon.

The Y.M.C.A. man who originated the Far Eastern Championship Games and was the leader in the movement to gain recognition for them from the World Olympic Committee, said yesterday that there are 130,000 Filipino girls who are members of uniformed indoor baseball teams in Philippine Schools. Monster playground demonstrations, with thousands of children taking part, were features of the Philippine Carnival, he said.

Interest in athletics in the Philippines is at its height and the Filipinos will send over 100 men to the Far Eastern Championships to be held here in May, Brown said. Seven of these established new Far East records at the Manila carnival track meet.

ADVANCE MAN COMING

The Philippine Legislature has appropriated G.$25,000 for the expenses of the team and Fred O. England, director of playgrounds in Manila and former sporting editor of the Manila Daily Bulletin, is arriving here shortly as the advance man for the Filipino team. England will secure accommodations here and make all the necessary training arrangements some time before the athletes arrive.

Mr. Brown said yesterday that a campaign has been started in earnest for funds with which to build a replica of the Pershing Stadium in Manila. The Pershing Stadium was built for the Inter-Allied Games in France and later presented to the French people. Incidentally Brown was the man who organised and conducted the Inter-Allied Games.

While in Manila he had several conferences with Dr. Nieuenweis commissioner of education in Java, and Java is ready to enter the Far Eastern A. A. The China Committee and Japan Committee will discuss the matter in conferences with Brown and Java will probably compete at the 1923 games, which will be held in Osaka.

Next year Java is to send swimmers, a soccer team, tennis players and track men to the annual Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation games to be held at the next Philippine Carnival.

Siam and Malaya, held out of this year's Far Eastern Games because of the war, will be in the Osaka games, in the opinion of Mr. Brown. Efforts are being made in both countries, he said.

Experts Competition At Revolver Club

The Shanghai Miniature Rifle and Revolver Club March revolver competition for the experts medal and bar will close Thursday 31. The competition calls for 20 shots to be fired at 15, 20 and 25 yards. Time limit five minutes. It is hoped that more of the Marksman's class will enter this useful competition, as it teaches how to use the revolver with quickness and accuracy.

The club members annual championship competition will be held during April. This calls for 10 shots at 10 yards, 10 shots at 15 yards, 10 shots at 20 yards and 10 shots at 25 yards.

ST. JOHN'S WIN FROM CHINESE Y.M.C.A. TEAM

College Champions Are On Long End Of 24-19 Score In Fast Game

St. John's University, basketball champions of the East China Intercollegiate Association, defeated the Chinese Y.M.C.A. quintet at the "Y" gymnasium last night before a record crowd. The score was 24-19 and accurately records the fight staged by the two best Chinese teams in this section.

At the end of the first half the Y.M.C.A. men led by a score of 11-8 and with the Jessfield crew coming from behind and eventually winning out, the big crowd was well rewarded.

The Shanghai five was weakened by the absence of M. T. Liu, but even with the big pivot man in, St. John's will probably be on the long end. The collegians are fast, shoot and pass well, and know how to play together. Tyau was their big man last night.

The Y.M.C.A. team will arrange a return game, the members said after the game last night.

The summary:

Shantung Newspaper Seeks To Justify Seizure Of Chinese Territory

(Staff Correspondence)

Peking, March 20.—The Tsinan Jih Pao, a Chinese language newspaper, owned, published and edited by Japanese at Tsinanfu, the capital of Shantung Province, published in its issue of March 16 the following editorial on American policies. The tone of the article is typical of the editorial methods employed by the Japanese publishers of Chinese language dailies in every large city of China. The effect of a constant output of articles of this nature on the uninformed and impressionable Chinese public can readily be imagined. The Tsinan Jih Pao's opinion of America and the Americans follows:

"Though myself a military man, I firmly believe I am not a war exponent, and I do not wish to indulge in jingoism for the purpose of stirring up ill-feeling between America and Japan. Since the founding of Nippon two national disasters have been encountered; she is now on the verge of a third, of the approach of which my fellow countrymen seem unaware; they continue to contemplate nature and dream fond dreams. It is with the object of awakening them that I thus write, and if in my impassioned choice of words I seem to err, my excuse is my love for my country.

"The conditions surrounding the present Japanese-American relations are somewhat similar to those existing prior to the Mongolian invasion during the Yuan Dynasty several centuries ago, and to those prior to the Japanese-Russian war; the two national disasters mentioned. The indifference of our people toward the threatened third disaster appears strange.

FEAR OR LASSITUDE

What appears indifference is perhaps fear of America; perhaps it is lassitude, due to weak leaders of our Government, whose policy toward China and Siberia is vacillating and frequently overcome by American influence. After a visit to America returned Japanese not infrequently praise that country—a habit from which even our military men are not free.

That this tends to produce a sense of inferiority amongst our people, as well as a sense of fear of the American people, is a fact that I can assert wthout danger of contradiction. In so far as material civilisation is concerned, America is decidedly superior to our nation. After seeing the skyscrapers of American cities we cannot but entertain a feeling of the smallness of our native land, but so far as spiritual civilisation is concerned, I am sure that our people are equal, if not superior, to the Americans.

"Taking advantage of the military collapse of the Central Powers America threw herself into the war on the side of the Allies, and settled the greatest war of history in favor of the latter. Not only do the American people look upon this accomplishment with pride, but other countries of the world view it with a mingled feeling of surprise and admiration.

"PROUD AND ARROGANT"

But nations, like individuals, when crowned with success, become proud and arrogant. America is no exception to this rule.

"Were America to continue to maintain her Monroe Doctrine, she would have plenty of room for her economic development, since her population is but 31 persons to the square mile. But instead of confining herself to the principles of the Monroe Doctrine, she is placing every obstacle in the way of Japan's expansion in China and in Siberia. What is her purpose? Owing to geographic and historic circumstances our country is forced to expand to the continent, an expansion that is not imperialistic but self-preserving. If America succeeds in her efforts our country will be placed in a precarious situation. Japan may be likened to a potted plant, whose roots, if it is to grow and develop, must extend into the ground. America wants to uproot our influence on the Asiatic mainland by cruel methods, in which she carries out her own imperialistic policy. She is much as Russia was a decade ago. Though the means employed are somewhat different, the object is the same, just as the object of murderers is the same, though the weapons used may be different."

Scanty Frocks Cause Edict On Simla Dress

Simla, India, Feb. 9.—The bureaucrats in Simla are asserting their proprietary rights over womankind by regulating the length of their skirts and the bareness of their backs.

The incident which led to this domination by the male sex over woman took place at a fancy dress dance given at Simla, when at least five ladies came attired in costumes both modest and a la mode. The exalted ones of Simla, in the words of the Psalmist, "delight not in any man's legs," and they apparently extend their abhorrence to those of the gentler sex.

Telephonic communication was established on the morning after the dance between the heads of departments, and the edict went forth that, since ladies could not discriminate between the garments suitable for bathing and those for the ballroom their husbands must hold a summary court-martial on their clothing before allowing them to enter into the garish light of a Simla ballroom.

The flutter in the dovecotes after this announcement was terrific. Sleeves were firmly planted where previously a gleaming expanse of fair skin had been. Skirts were lengthened and net scarves discreetly draped. "This, I suppose," said a gallant general, "is the 'net' result.'"

Recent visitors from the lurid and exotic atmosphere of a small plain station have been amazed to find that their sisters in Simla have taken the veil. They have been compelled to purchase large quantities of oxygen and tulle before they could breathe the rarified atmosphere or move in the cloistered precincts of Simla.

THE WAY TO ELIMINATE MALARIA

Ceylon Evidence

To eliminate the cause—not merely the symptoms—that is the right way to get rid of Malaria. The cause is parasitically poisoned blood. The only means of permanent cure is through the blood, by purifying and enriching the blood, and thus ridding it of the poison.

Today in every country where Malaria exists there are living former sufferers from this dreadfully weakening, life-shortening disease who gratefully acknowledge that they owe their restored health solely to the new, rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the world renowned Blood Tonic made for them. One of these is Mr. Percy Jansz, of the Construction Department, Ceylon Government Railway, Colombo. Mr. Jansz says:—

"Whilst doing inspection duty on the Northern line some years ago I contracted Malaria. As a preliminary to each attack I had a feeling of listlessness and my appetite fell away. In a few days I would be aching all over, at the same time becoming icy cold and shivering with ague. This was followed by intense heat, and severe pains throughout the body accompanied by violent headaches. Then I would break into a profuse perspiration which soaked the bed, and so the attacks would gradually pass off, leaving me in an exceedingly weak condition.

"Quinine did me no good whatever, and it was only after I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that I began to experience relief. Soon after commencing this treatment my appetite improved, the attacks of ague and headaches, and the pains, decreased in violence and became less frequent. Indigestion and 'liver,' which had caused me trouble before, ceased, my spirits improved and I gradually regained lost weight.

"After continuing the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for some time longer all traces of Malaria left me and I became as well and strong as ever before. I have been enjoying the best of health since."

For over thirty years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have been famous as a specific for those disorders which are due to impure, watery blood and debilitated nerves. They are obtainable from dealers everywhere, also post free, at $1.50 the bottle, $8 for 6 bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

KINGMAN & BROS.

How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth, some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers consists in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filling with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

Catalogued for Sale: 2,080,091 lbs. (about 929 tons).
Offered: 7,744,867 lbs. (about 779 tons).
Sold: 1,243,066 lbs. (about 555 tons).

Since our last report the local spot market has remained fairly steady, whereas the forward positions have declined a few points, in spite of a slight improvement in the London market.

There was a moderate demand at the auctions this week, the outstanding feature of the sales being a keen competition for First Latex Crepe.

Standard Ribbed Smoked Sheet sold from 31½ to 30½ cents; the average price may be given as 31 cents. This grade met with a good demand.

Off Quality Sheet advanced ½ cent on the week.

Standard 1st Latex was in keen demand, realising 39 cents, which shows an improvement of 2 cents.

Off Color Latex met with a moderate demand only.

Brown, Dark, and Barky Crepes found ready buyers, maintaining on an average the same prices as last week.

At the continuation this morning Standard Sheet sold at 30½ cents owing to reports of a slight decline in the London market.

N.B.—The above prices for Standard Quality Sheet and Crepe are only paid for small lots at the auctions, whereas bigger quantities in the outside market generally fetch from 1 cent to 1½ above these figures.

Meyer and Measor.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending yesterday:

Exchange:—The London price of silver at 34⅛d. for spot delivery shows a rise of ⅝d. since our last circular. The rate for two months forward delivery at 33¾d. is 1⅛d. up. The market has been supported by steady purchases by the Indian Bazaars it is thought on the assumption that an import duty on silver into India would be imposed. It is now stated that the suggestion of such a duty was not accepted by the Government and it is probable that there will be a secession of buying orders from that quarter. Our Exchange rate for T.T. on London moved up 1d. to 3s. 1d. The local exchange market has been supported by speculative resales of Gold T.T. by our Gold Dealers and a premium of from 1d. to 2½d. has been offering. We close uncertain, but with an easier tendency.

Shareholders Favor Big Fishing Combine

Russo-Japanese Fishing Company Is Name To Be Retained After Amalgamation

The ambitious plan of the Russo-Japanese Fishing Company, the Export Food Company and the Kamchatka Fishing Company to amalgamate in order to co-operate and to unify Japanese fishing operations in northern waters will shortly materialise, the proposal having been endorsed by the meetings of shareholders held by the three concerns respectively. The interests of the Export Food Company and the Kamchatka Fishing Company will be incorporated in the Russo-Japanese Fishing Company, and the name of the latter will be retained for the amalgated concern, according to the Japan Advertiser.

As the result of the amalgamation, the capital of the Russo-Japanese Fishing Company, which has hitherto been Y. 10,000,000 will be increased to Y. 25,700,000. Directors of the new concern are to be selected from among those of the three concerns, and it is expected that Mr. Seiroku Tsutsumi, well known for the interest he takes in social welfare as well as for his prominence in marine and fishing operations, who has hitherto been president of the Export Food Company, will assume the presidency of the amalgamated Russo-Japanese Fishing Company. If for certain reasons no president is to be appointed, he will be appointed managing director and will act practically as president.

WEATHER

Overcast and showery weather probably improving because of the high pressures. Rather strong Northerly winds on the Yellow and Eastern Seas. Regular monsoon in the South. Rough to the East of the Loochoos.

The Spirit Of Easter Descends Upon Us

WARSAW and Berlin are both joyfully celebrating the result of the plebiscite in Upper Silesia. That would appear to be a hopeful sign. But is it? The latest messages indicate that it isn't, that the plebiscite has settled nothing and that the Plebiscite Commission will now have to recommend some sort of settlement to the Supreme Council of the League of Nations. Whereupon the League will be forced to do something unpleasant either to Germany or to Poland. And whatever it does will further offend one or another nation or group of nations and lead to new complications.

Meanwhile the situation on the Rhine continues to be loaded with dynamite. We have no word that Germany has forked over the billion gold marks demanded by March 23, and apparently the French troops are making some new moves.

Down in the Balkans three new classes of Greek troops have been called to the colors to make a drive on Kemal and his strong and well-equipped army of 200,000 Turkish Nationalists who are not only in league with the Moscow Government but are receiving powerful support from it.

The possibilities of disaster to humanity not only in these but in other regions multiply. Japan announces that she has made five demands of the Chita Government in Siberia. Kwangtung prepares for war on Kwangsi. The Allies decide that Peking shall expend the Customs surplus collected by the Canton Government. (Is China no longer a free nation?)

Tomorrow we observe Good Friday. And Sunday we celebrate Easter. It was Christ who gave to the world the great blessing of hope. But for him we should not even have that left. It is, we believe, only Him and His teachings which today inspire the Christendom of Europe to hold on and struggle on in the face of the present calamitous situation. Men have fought themselves far away from the things Christ taught, and so have invoted disaster but in their extremity they must turn back to Him and to His ways.

"Blessed be ye poor; for yours is the Kingdom of God. Blessed are ye that hunger now; for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now; for ye shall laugh."

If Europe will but turn away from wrath and the wringing of her fellowmen's necks, and let her eyes look upward to the only source of blessings, she certainly will be blessed, for is she not on this Easter poor, hungry and weeping?

GLORY AND TAXATION

Delhi, March 21.—The Legislative Assembly has adopted the Budget, which provides for heavy taxation on cotton goods, luxuries, foreign goods and tobacco.—Reuter.

And History Only Repeats Itself. It was in the year 1820 that the following was written for the "Edinburgh Review:"

"We can inform Jonathan what are the inevitable consequences of being too fond of glory. Taxes on every article that enters the mouth, or covers the back, or is placed under the foot—taxes upon everything which it is pleasant to see, hear, feel, smell or taste—taxes upon warmth, light, and locomotion—taxes on everything on earth and the waters under the earth—on everything that comes from abroad or is grown at home—taxes on raw material, taxes upon everything that is added to it by the industry of man—taxes on the sauce that pampers men's appetites, and the drug that restores him to health—on the ermine that decorates the judge and the rope that hangs the criminal—on the brass nails of the coffin and the ribbons of the bride—at bed or board, couchant or levant we must pay.

AND THAT ISN'T ALL

"The School boy whips his taxed top, the beardless youth manages his taxed horse, with a taxed bridle, on a taxed road, and the dying Englishman, pouring his medicine, which has paid seven percent into a spoon, that has paid fifteen percent flings himself upon a chintz bed which has paid 22 percent and expires in the arms of the apothecary who has paid a licence of a hundred pounds for the privilege of putting him to death."

AND THEN THE DEATH DUTIES

His whole property is then immediately taxed from two to ten percent.

Besides the probates, large fees are charged for burying him in the chancel; his virtues are handed down to posterity on taxed marble and then he is gathered to his fathers—to be taxed no more and

THEREFORE HEAVEN

'Twas Chatham who cried
And the "Commons" defied,
"No tax without representation,"
But since we have sighted,
And some e'en have died—
Their vote "Stuck" them extra taxation.

PUBLICANS AND SINNERS

The publicans that I speak of have nothing whatever to do with Republicans—at present. Republicans may nourish hope of course that they will have something to do sometime or other, with publicans. But here again the publicans I write about are not the publicans that you are probably thinking about. No! They may have known what a saloon was, but it was their duty to go out into the populous parts of the towns, and extract just about as much in the way of taxes as they possibly could. That is why they were classed with the sinners.

Taxes have never been popular. Even the taxes that the S.M.C. ask us to pay seem to lead to all sorts of trouble. You carry about dollars—when you have them—and the collector comes and asks for taels, and in order to get at a true idea of your indebtedness to the City Fathers, the shroff plays about with a rectangular board, and flips little balls up and down slim sticks, while you wish you could be where "Three Balls' give you the chance of raising the wherewithal to satisfy the grasping tax collector—even if those three golden balls tell "Uncle" that it is three-to-one you don't get them out.

PEOPLE WHO WOULDN'T PAY

King John asked his barons to pay taxes. Then he asked them to pay more. Then he suggested that they should pay more. Then the barons turned nasty. They asked him "What about it?" Then he asked them "Well, what about it?" And they said "We've had enough." Then he said "But I haven't had enough." Then they said "You've got all you'll get out of us, and what is more, you've got to refund a bit." So John signed a chit which we call Magna Charta.

That is why John is one of the greatest men in English History. He was the originator of the chit system. There are other famous Johns out here who originate chits—Messrs. Haig, Walker, et al.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

John Brown Jones, who is living somewhere in the North Szechuen Road Extension, wants to know why he should pay the S.M.S. taxes although he does not get the vote. And Bill Jones Brown and Brown Smith, and folk who are living in other outlying parts of the Model Settlement, are asking the same question.

But why worry? They are taxed now. If they get the vote it might be worse.

The Civic League is keeping its eyes upon the main chance, and when the opportunity arises their slogan will be:

No taxation without representation.

Impressions Of Famine Told By Woman Observer

BY MRS. CHARLES L. OGILVIE

In a recent eight-day trip on the Peking-Hankow line down as far as Shuntefu and its neighoring villages, and including Paotingfu and Wanhsion, I saw many things that brought the reality of the famine vividly home to me. In this cross-section of the famine region I saw the famine at work, and realised, as I could not from a distance, something of the feeling of desperation that is driving the people from their villages, and sending them Northward on open freight cars by the hundreds and thousands toward the hope of food.

Driven by the urge of slow starvation, refugees are coming into Shuntefu city and the villages near in great numbers from the South, and living in any kind of a shelter or hole. I spent two days visiting these homes, and saw a number of pitiful sights. As we crossed a barren field, we saw a man with haggard face and unkempt hair, standing in a hole in the ground, his body visible from the waist up. We questioned him, and found that in the hole, measuring about six by ten feet and three feet deep, were living eight refugees, five men and three little boys. One of the men whose legs were frozen, was confined to the hole all the time.

As we went on into the village, a man met us and besought work on the road, saying that two of his children were sick. Later we visited the hut where he lived. We found it, a one-roof shelter, small and dark, having no opening except the door. On the stove was boiling a large pot almost filled with a very weak mixture consisting mostly of water, with a little millet in the bottom. A baby was feebly crying on the k'ang, and the mother took it up and wrapped it in her one garment against her body. At the back of the k'ang in the darkness something was moving, we saw a head raised, and the emaciated limbs of a boy of sixteen were uncovered. In the other corner at the back was a boy of eleven, with body and limbs like those on an India famine orphan.

My friend took me to see another home, one dim room, with a brick stove next to the k'ang, and a few inches lower. On the edge of the k'ang with their tiny bare feet exposed through their rags and close to the fire-hole of the stove, sat three little girls, eight, six, and four years old. They were so pitifully quiet and good, and the youngest was sick. The anxious-faced father tended the fire, and on the k'ang lay the mother, ill with a swelling on her leg. My friend told me that when she had first found the family, the mother was away in the city, trying to earn something as a wet-nurse. The father was also away and the three little girls were sitting alone on the k'ang, around the fire-hole.

LIVE IN CAVES

When we came out of this place, we were immediately surrounded by a crowd of men, women and children, and almost dragged into another dark hovel Here on the k'ang sat an old, old woman, cross-legged and facing us, her white hair and ghastly face gleaming strangely in the shadows and her hands shaking. She and her family were newly arrived refugees from Weihelen.

The next place visited was a sort of cave with dirt walls and corners so dark that a child could easily get lost in them. Here were a family consisting of a father, mother, and four little children. The one window was covered with bits of old and very dirty paper of different sizes and previous uses, and one thought involuntarily, "if the paper were only clean, how much more light the room would have." But it was not light they had sought, but some protection from the wind, which nevertheless came chillingly through the front wall of the room—wall only in name for it was simply a temporary kaoliang and mat hanging. The whole front of the cave, thus partitioned off, was open, and in the outer passage-way, entirely unprotected on one side from the weather, another poor woman and her child had spread a straw mat on the ground, and were living practically out-of-doors.

ELEVEN IN ONE ROOM

As we left one village and crossed the kelds to another, a man came running to meet us, a well-built young fellow of not more than thirty. The gray muddy dirt on his face was not the dirt of the unwashed, though that was doubtless underneath. It was dirt that one could see came from sleeping on the bare and dusty ground. He was crying out loud, his face drawn with distress, and tears running down his gray cheeks. He led us to the hovel where his poor wife and four little children, one the inevitable baby, were living. When his wife saw him crying, she began to cry too, and all the children likewise. There were eleven in this one-roomed shack. The others were relatives who had fled earlier from the famine devastated regions farther South. This man and his family had only just arrived that day, and their starving relatives could do nothing for them. This was the only instance of the real feelings of those wretched multitudes who are compelled to die and see their loved ones die of slow starvation.

All of the refugees mentioned above were given help, either grain, or food tickets for a child or two or a little money aid that in no case could do more than keep soul and body together.

AID FOR ONLY HALF

The Shuntefu district covers nine counties, and besides a committee of Chinese the organisations working there are the International Relief Committee, the China Inland Mission, the Catholics and the American Presbyterians. The population of the district is about one and a quarter million, and of these it is estimated that the starving number 225,000. Out of this number 100,000 are being fed by the combined efforts of all the organisations, or employed at a few coppers a day. Among the forms of relief are chou-ch'ang, garment-making and embroidery for women, hair-net classes, schools and orphanages for the girls and children. Chinese gentry are running a chou-ch'ang which feeds 4,000 a day, each person getting three bowls of chou. They have also erected forty huts for refugees near the chou-ch'ang. Several hundred men are being employed at road-building, canal-digging, and dyking the river. A working man however, needs much more food than one who is idle. The food of one workman will keep four people alive. So the aim of the International Committee is to feed as many as possible and keep them alive until the wheat harvest in June.

GRAIN FUND INSUFFICIENT

In the Paotingfu area, with an estimated starving population of 800,000, between 150,000 and 200,000 are being fed by the eight Missions and the number will be increased in two weeks to over 300,000. But with all the efforts being put forth, a large part of the suffering will still remain unrelieved, for lack of funds to buy grain.

Now that the New Year is past, the people are becoming desperate. They stayed at home until after the New Year, but now they are leaving home in great numbers. Each north-bound freight has for some weeks been carrying from 100 to 200 or more—whole families, clans, or even villages traveling together. One of the sad things in connection with this migration is the number of accidents that occur. Many of the poor creatures are run over by the trains as they try to board, and either maimed or killed. In the Mission and railroad hospitals up and down the line they have had hundreds of such cases—hands, feet, or limbs cut off, or bodies otherwise injured. Driven by the terrible gnawing desire to find food and most of them knowing nothing whatever of railroad trains and their ways, the wretched victims had tried to get on the trains while in motion and going swiftly across country.

DANGER TO WORKERS

The hunger situation has become at last so serious as to be almost dangerous for those who are trying to help. It is becoming increasingly difficult for any foreigner known to have anything to do with famine relief to get through the streets. Those in charge of chou-ch'ang are in danger of being mobbed. Loading grain on the freight cars has its difficulties likewise, as women will stab the grain-bags with a sharp instrument, and then try to catch the escaping grain in various utensils. A foreign woman worker, while waiting on the platform at Wang-Tu for her train, saw a sight that made her wish for the "wings of a bird," that she might escape and not have to see it.

"It was the poor of Wang-Tu, mostly women and children, fighting for the kernels, the single kernels of kaoliang, that fell from the cars and sacks as they were unloaded from the cars into men's backs and then onto the carts. One woman when unwatched, found a hole in a sack if fed and cared for they are often found to be not past recovery.

With nothing left which they can sell or pawn, and no one from whom to beg or borrow, home and strength almost gone, many of these poor creatures are being driven to selling or abandoning their families, fleeing to some unknown region, or taking their own lives. Stories of suicide are common. One man sold his eighteen year old daughter for eighteen dollars. A little while afterwards he was robbed of all his money. In his distress he hanged himself. When his wife knew of his death, she killed the two remaining children and then took her own life.

MANY GIRLS SOLD

No one can say just how many girls have been sold throughout the whole district, but the refugees and hair-net classes are full of rescued girls. One case of which I was told was of a girl who received word that she was to return home, as her father who was in Harbin, had sent for the whole family to go there, so that they "could all set millet together." She left the Refuge and went home, but when she arrived she found that her father's real intention was to sell her, and this was only a ruse to get her home. She hastily fled back to the Refuge, saying, "I never want to go home again!"

Another girl had been sold by her parents, but was so brutally abused by her owners that she ran away to the American Board Mission. She was in a pitiful condition. Five teeth and six finger-nails had been pulled out, her face was covered with blood, her hands swollen, her feet bloody. After care in the hospital she was sent to the Refuge at Wang-Tu. There are 200 girls in this Refuge, which is supported and run by the students of Peking University.

HAIR-NET MARKET FAILS

In most of the Refuges the girls are being taught to weave hair-nets. Many of these girls after being taught for a month have been sent home and fed there, and encouraged to teach others to make hair-nets. They were promised $1.50 for every five girls taught. And the pupils in their turn were offered a bonus for learning. So that now, after several months, there are thousands of hair-net makers all over this district. When this plan was started, the making of hair-nets was a very popular and paying industry. It has been the custom of many firms in America or other countries to send out hair-net buyers once or twice a year who buy in immense quantities and at high prices. The agent of a large firm with headquarters in Chefoo, buys for Marshall Field and Carson, Pirie in Chicago, and one or two large New York houses. It is his desire to get a monopoly of all the hair-net agencies and give a fair and steady price all the year round, which of course would be to the ultimate benefit of the hair-net makers, but the Chinese agents or middlemen have preferred to sell to the sporadic buyers who offer larger prices, and have refused to give the desired monopoly. Now the bottom has dropped out of the hair-net market, hitherto supposed to be bottomless, owing to the fact that the agents are refusing to buy. As a result, the thousands of hair-net makers who were able to earn a living wage, are now idle.

WEAVING UNPROFITABLE

Another even more serious situation in the famine area lies in the fact that thousands of looms for weaving cloth are standing idle all over this region. Kao Yang Hsien is a center for hand woven cloth, hundreds of thousands of dollars worth being woven annually. But

Anne—other!

Referring to a notice appearing in this space on Tuesday last, the following letter has reached us:—

"A Riddle of History"

To the Editor, "Westminister Gazette"
Shanghai Edition.

Dear Mr. EDITOR,

In your reference to Anne Boleyn and particularly y ·· quotation—

"Mistress Anne was sent home again to her father for a season; whereat she smoked."

I must point out that Anne Boleyn, second Queen of Henry VIII, was born in 1507 and executed in 1536. Sir Walter Raleigh, who is credited with having introduced Tobacco into England, was, however, born in 1552—i.e., 16 years after Anne could possibly have smoked.

It is said that Tobacco was used by Raleigh about 1586, and although the manner of his demise was similar to Anne Boleyn's, for he was executed in 1618, how could Anne have smoked prior to 1533?

Yours faithfully,

"Nicotian"

In reply to the interesting point raised by "Nicotian" we must say that we hold to our quotation, which is quite accurate. We agree that his dates are also accurate.

This "Riddle of History" therefore resolves itself into the question

How could Anne have smoked?

Perhaps its unravelling may be pursued at some Shanghai dinner tables over Coffee and Cigarettes; so we will postpone giving the solution until Saturday next, when we shall reveal everything. In the meanwhile we suggest that the answer will easily be arrived at over Coffee and Cigarettes if the latter are

Visualizing The Soul Of A Star

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Subjects of Scientific Interest

"Dear Sir—

"A star is dead; a thousand years ago he died.

Now, tell me, Sage, does still reach us his mild clear light?

And if it does, how long before the last ray flies,

Before the shine that glows so mild and fair dies?

W. B.

Ay, rhythmic friend, the star still shines, though dead,
And still will shine unendingly,
For death's chill grasp cannot arrest the tiny ray
Once launched upon the spheral space-time sea.

It is the star's imperishable soul, that cantering ray;
Its life is ceaseless motion, and the flying goal
Can never be attained. It makes a fool of death,
Whose swishing scythe strikes ever where it was, not is;
And, four-dimensioned, back it flings its mock at him,
The echoing laughter of eternity.

If this free-verse dash into astronomic space seems a little orphic, the blame must rest upon the form of four question.

If your star is distant 1,000 light-years, i. e., the space that light would travel in a thousand years, and if it "died" a thousand years ago, then, manifestly, the last ray that left its living surface must be at this moment entering your eye, and an instant later the star, for you, will cease to shine and be indeed dead.

But the light-ray will still fly on, into regions more and more remote from its source, and for an eye situated at a distance of 2,000 light-years the star, whose life is its light, will not die until a thousand years after it has died for you. And at the distance of a million light years the star will continue to live a million years, though dead at its own hearth. And if space is endless, or if it is spheral, returning into itself, then the star once born can never die. Its clod may die, its light, its soul, its essence, never!

Is this an image of the human soul? Does this offer a clue to the great mystery to us how a personality, which has a beginning with its birth in the human form, can henceforth be imperishable, only the unessentials dropping off from it? But an excursion into eschatalogy would doubtless be more confusing and less exciting than a free-verse ride. So, I will return to the plain road of mathematics.

People are often puzzled over the thought that a star which we see shining with unchanged brightness in the sky may have gone out a hundred or a thousand or more years ago. There would be nothing puzzling about it if they remembered that light takes time to travel.

It takes more than eight minutes to come to us from the sun. It takes perhaps 300 years to come from Betelguese. It takes probably 100,000 years to come from the remote globular that consist of congregated giant suns.

Between every shining object and our eyes there is an unbroken chain of light waves. These waves average, say, one forty-thousandth of an inch in length, and they travel, one behind another, at the speed of 186,000 miles per second.

If the chain is broken at the source by the extinguishment of the light there, the procession of waves will continue onward with unchecked and unvaried speed and the sensation of light will still be produced in the receiving eye until the last wave of the chain reaches it. But as I have already explained, that last wave will take twice as long to reach an eye situated twice as far away.

Between your eye and the sun there are no less than 235,699,200,000,000,000 light waves (say, for round numbers, 236 quadrillions). About 470 trillions of these enter your eye every second, so that in about 500 seconds after the sun was suddenly extinguished, the last wave would break on your retina.

Impressions Of Famine Told By Woman Observer

this year the people have not been weaving, because the price they could get for the cloth would just barely cover the cost of material. They would get nothing for their work. The thread spinning and knitting machines have also been idle, and the looms for making ankle tai-tzus and loin belts. All this is due to the depression of the the market. A few years ago all the cloth went to Japan but of late years it had been marketed in the big cities of China. Now the merchants, especially in the South, are not buying, not wishing to stock their shops with goods that may be looted by bandit soldiers or tufeis. The slump in the market is due also in part to the wide-spread business depression all over the world.

This side-light on the famine situation may help us to better understand what it means for thousands of people, previously self-supporting or even well-to-do—to be reduced to the extremity of need in which they are today. The long winter is past, but there are still four months before harvest. The resistance of the people is weakened, and with the coming of warmer weather will come the increased danger from disease. The ordinary diseases, always rife, are already beginning to take a greater toll. But the epidemic most to be dreaded is typhus. Weak from long months of hunger and cold, the starving multitudes could not long resist a typhus epidemic. With their strength sustained and built up by sufficient food, they might resist.

'PLEASE SAVE OUR LIVES!'

The relief committees all over China are feeding now about 2,300,000 people, and the work is being expanded to care for 5,000,000. Beyond this the committees dare not go, with the funds now in hand or in prospect. The Chinese Government loan of $4,000,000 has already been used up. The total estimated aid of $2,700,000 gold, about $6,000,000 Mex. from America, is all being used in the planned expansion of the relief work. Those who are now being cared for must be kept alive till June with present funds.

But those now being fed are only a fraction of those in actual and appalling need. Where is the money to come from for these others? It is not for us to say that China is overpopulated, and so disclaim responsibility for saving as many as we can. Let us listen to the cry which meets the relief workers everywhere as they go among the suffering people: "Save our lives! Please save our lives!"

Is Anger A Mark Of Genius?

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

(Eminent Astronomer And Authority On Subjects Of Scientific Interest)

It is perilous to lay down general rules for the hygiene of body and brain. Man is a variable unit—a variable star in the theater of the universe, he thinks himself, with batteries of interested eyes fixed upon him from all quarters.

Dr. Robert Morris warns us against getting wrathful. Exasperation and anger distill poison. They produce maleficent chemical changes that clog the system and lower the efficiency of body and brain.

But some people would be very inefficient if their blood was always cool and easy-flowing. This is true of some of the most actually efficient men in history. George Washington is for most readers a type of passionless majesty. The artists have given him a look of imperturbable serenity. They have not shown the volcano under the smooth surface. It was when he got mad that Washington did his best work. When he was infuriated enough to flush red and to swear at a stupid or treacherous subordinate he invariably whipped the enemy.

WHAT HISTORY REVEALS

I do not believe that you can find an instance in history of great achievement that did not have moral passion, passion that whipped the blood, heated the brain, gave fire to the eyes, for the driving force behind it. The man who is never irritated, never gets burning hot or boiling with indignation or flushed with resentful force may save his veins from chemical poisoning, but he will do nothing in the world or for the world.

Lord Bacon in his essay on anger touches only on one side of it—the advantage that it gives to an opponent if he who feels it becomes its victim and not its director. Bacon seems not to have thought of anger as an awakener of energy. The old Hebrew prophets were wiser in that regard, for they represent the Almighty himself as getting angry, and as producing the most notable concentrations and expressions of His power when His wrath had been excited.

KEEPING COOL

The old expression about keeping the head cool contains much more than appears upon the surface.

The cool-headed man is the one who steadily turns the energy gathering in him upon some definite object. He is not a bombshell to be exploded by his anger, but a rifled gun to concentrate and guide its energy.

Whenever you find a person who does notable or uncommon or extraordinary things, you may be sure that he is capable of and frequently objects to the passions that group themselves around anger, and which, whatever their chemical reaction may be, are indispensable sources of human power.
